

R

r

What is the promise of the rainbow?

Page 2

Noah still was grateful

and an altar he did build.

Knowing that eventually the earth more crops would yield.

Noah made a sacrifice,

which pleased God in his heart.

And so God made a promise

from which he won't depart.

Page 3

God said another flood

he would never send,

Even though the sin of men

is never going to end.

The rainbow is a sign of the promise God did make.

And when God makes a promise

it is never a mistake.

Page 4

The flood changed the relationship between animals and men.

God said there would be fear and dread
between the two of them.

Before the flood God had said
to eat only food from plants.

But then the meat from animals
as a source of food he grants.

Page 5

The perfect world God made has never been the same.

Since men refuse to call on God
and won't bow before his name.

The hearts of men want evil;
they follow their own way.

And what is good and right
they choose to disobey.

Page 6

God says this fallen world,
will one day pass away.

And Christ will reign as king
on that great and glorious day.

When the things of this earth
all are in the past,

Our relationship with God
e-tern-al-ly will last.

Page 1

The world was not the same
when Noah came off the ark.

Before the flood earth had been
like a verdant park.

But water from the flood wiped out every plant and tree.

It was left quite barren
with nothing much to see.

What is the promise of the rainbow?

R—R	Make sign of "R"
Rainbow	Spread fingers apart, move in arc in front of body
A promise	Put hand up like "I swear"
to all men	Point out & around with index finger
R—R—Rainbow	Same as above
The earth	Make circle with arms over head
won't flood again	Shake index finger & head "no"

