Who are we to praise?

Jerusalem he entered,

on a donkey he did ride.

It showed he was a humble king,

not a ruler full of pride.

Many people rejoiced greatly

when he came into town.

They waved palm branches in the air

and laid their garments down.

Page 3

Some shouted praises to their God
and Jesus as their king.

“Hosanna in the highest,”
they joyfully did sing.

But the hearts of many people were cold and very dark.

“Make them stop the shouting,”
some to Jesus did remark.

Jesus said the rocks and stones

with praises would cry out,

If the people didn't sing

and to God's glory shout.

Christ created everything,

to him belongs all praise.

We should recognize that

and in worship voices raise.

We must turn our hearts to God

to see Jesus as our king.

And understand our need for the gift that he does bring.

That gift is called redemption,

it rescues us from sin.

To be right with God the Father

we have to go through him.

What your heart is like

will affect what you decide.

Jesus wants to be your king;

his arms are open wide.

Don't let your heart be cold and dark,

praise Jesus as your king.

"Hosanna to the highest,"

in joyful worship sing.

Jesus showed that he is God

by the miracles he did.

He gave sight to the blind and diseases he did rid.

He spoke the truth of God

everywhere he went,

So many people did believe

from the Father he was sent.
